

Colin Raymond: Asian Aid Ambassador Profile

Ryde, NSW - outskirts of Sydney

Master of Business Administration
Currently employed in International Finance

Married, father of three

For Colin and his growing family, hope means, "to have a vision of a better future, an improvement on a current situation." The Raymond family has been sponsoring children and giving hope through Asian Aid for over 20 years.

"Yesterday. Today. Tomorrow, for me is a progression of hope. No matter what yesterdays has been like, or what today is like, tomorrow holds hope." Colin is busy with work traveling to Asia at least once a month. But regardless of his active employment, he still finds time to organize mission trips and fundraise.

Colin says that God has blessed him and his family, and would like to give back. He wants to help others get to know God through the use of his skills and experience. "I have personally seen the impact of Asian Aid sponsorship on a number of children's lives. It makes a huge difference to every single person who can be helped."

Thank you Raymonds for your amazing support of Asian Aid.
