

Dr John Hammond: Asian Aid Ambassador Profile

Cooranbong, NSW

Diploma in Teaching, BA (Hons), PhD 41 years in Seventh-day Adventist Education

Married and proud grandparent

“Hope is allied with faith,” says John Hammond, supporter of Asian Aid since 1974. John has travelled to many places around the world and instilled hope into individuals through his teaching and ministering. But despite his many years of service and travel, John says, “I still got plenty of energy.”

John is using his energy and knowledge to expand the awareness of Asian Aid.

John is using his energy and knowledge to expand the awareness of Asian Aid. “Asian Aid reaches the needy in a unique way. I have been so blest in life and I feel a passion to reach out and help people who might never otherwise be reached.” He loves working with people, specifically from an educational outlook.

If he could tell a child one thing, it would be, “If you could only know how much value Jesus places in your committed life, it would transform your existence.” And John is fully committed, as he has felt God’s call and care since he was 14 years old.

Thank you John for your amazing support of Asian Aid.