

Vilma Golstajn Asian Aid Ambassador Profile

Alstonville, NSW - West of Ballina

Married mother of two
Certificate in aged care

"Giving 'life' to people who do not have anything and giving Jesus for eternal life," is what hope is to Vilma, who with her husband recently served seven months in Maranatha, India.

Advertising of the Asian Aid Ambassador Program in March led to a strong conviction, which Vilma answered in her application to be an ambassador. When asked what strengths she thought she could bring to Asian Aid, her response was humble. "Those strengths that God will supply and give me. I love God and being in His employment."

Vilma first heard of Asian Aid many years ago when she began sponsoring a child in Bangladesh. As an ambassador, she has high hopes for what she and others can do. "We need to get more sponsors and funds for Asian Aid, so more children and those in need can be helped." Since joining the Ambassador program, Vilma has helped find sponsors for children in Bangladesh, India and Nepal.

Thank you Vilma for your amazing support of Asian Aid.
